

Based on the plots, threshold on input sizes could be around 200. This number is chosen because in each case scenario, 200 and above input sizes is where where the execution time deviates strongly between the algorithms and their respective scenarios. Past 200 input sizes is where we distinct (or minimal) changes in execution time.